Editor's Corner

1) There will be no meeting on Sept. 29th because the church is using it for their rummage sale. The sale will take place on Saturday, and there will be a pre-sale Friday evening starting at 7:00pm. Everyone is invited to come and find goodies!

2) Dora Roberts, our Membership Chairman, reminds everyone that the annual dues letters will be coming out on November 1st. If you are writing a check, please remember to make it out to SAPA. More details to follow later.

3) On October 13, we will have our Fundraiser Auction. Any type of item that you wish to donate will be acceptable for this auction. Stamps and stamp paraphernalia, books, decorative items, food, things you aren't using anymore that you think someone else will buy—will all help our club to stay in good financial shape. Anything that doesn't sell will be returned to owner, or the church has kindly offered to donate them to the charity to which they are giving their rummage sale remnants.

We could also use lots of members to come to the auction willing to buy anything that takes their fancy. You are also encouraged to tell your friends about this interesting auction. All buyers welcome. It'll be fun!

WE WELCOME VISITORS

SAPA is always happy to welcome visitors. We hope you will enjoy our activities and wish to join us as members.

All visitors are welcome to purchase stamps at our auctions, bourses and bag nights. Anyone wishing to sell or trade at our meetings must be a member.

AUCTION ETIQUETTE :

Be sure to get your Bidder's number card before the auction starts. Come early and look over the lots for sale before the auction. During the auction, lots will be identified by their lot number and a brief description of the lot.

When bidding for a lot, please raise your Bidder's Number card and keep it up until you no longer wish to bid. Flipping the card up and down is confusing for the auctioneers.

Please keep extraneous conversation to a minimum. This makes it easier for everyone to hear what the auctioneer is selling, and allows the auctioneer to more easily keep track of the bidding.

While your purchases will be given to you during the auction, please wait until the end of the auction to pay for them. Your name will be called as the tallys are completed. Those who are only buying will be called first. Buyers who are also sellers will be called next. Checks made out to S.A.P.A. are acceptable. Sellers with unsold lots should be sure to pick up their lots before leaving.

Please be sure to return the Bidder's Number cards so that we can use them again in the following auctions.

We look forward to meeting you.

President's Message

I spent the last two weeks in Florida going to a Shell Convention in Key West and visiting friends in Gulf Breeze, Florida. The weather was great but I thought what a bad place to live if a major hurricane hits one of these low lying areas.

So what happens? A hurricane decided to hit Texas as I am getting ready to come home.

Having grown up in Port Arthur during several hurricanes, I figured once it made land fall, I could head for home. I would hit some rain and winds but I-10 and the north freeways in Houston would still be open.

Bad mistake. It started raining in Louisiana and increased in intensity as I neared Houston. The water was starting to flood across I-10 as I came into Houston. Luckily the north Sam Houston Toll Freeway was still open, at least for most of the way. After a few high water loops around flooded underpasses I made it to I-10 west. I thought I had it made, but just barely. Even here the water was starting to cover all three lanes of the highway.

The wind and rain did not let up until I got past the Lulling exit about 60 miles from San Antonio. Next time I'll drive north to I-20, across to Dallas and then south. After watching the TV reports for the last three days, I consider myself very lucky to have made it. See you at the next meeting.

"Occupation Stamps—Updated"

by Charles Shelby

July 21, 2017

Charles was one more very informative!!!. He updated his almost complete collection of Occupation Stamps from Aden and Germany. He provided every one present with a detailed list of the updates:

Not only did he provide a detailed list, but he gave everyone in attendance samples some of the stamps. Here are some of mine:

His program was very well attended:

Those of you who missed Charles's presentation just missed out!!!!
Thanks, Charlie, we were very appreciative of your collection additions and the samples.
Keep up the good work!!

Yours in Philately, Pat Richmond

'Stamp Show Here Today' offers podcasts, a radio show for stamp collectors

Stamp collectors can attend a weekly discussion of a variety of stamp-collecting topics by sitting at their computer or laptop.

The Stamp Show Here Today podcast was created by a small group of stamp collectors and dealers who were discussing stamps at a stamp show in southern California three years ago. The discussion spawned a weekly round-table discussion that is broadcast weekly over the Internet.

Merriam-Webster dictionary defines a podcast as "a program (as of music or talk) made available in digital format for automatic download over the Internet."

Caj Brejtfus, the producer of Stamp Show Here Today, said someone during the discussion at the stamp show commented that "it would be great if I could listen to this discussion on a computer … think of it as radio on demand."

Today, the podcast has more than 18,500 downloads per month, according to Brejtfus.

Brejtfus is chief financial officer and head of marketing and advertising for Professional Stamp Experts, an authentication and grading company for United States stamps. The company is located in Santa Ana, Calif.

According to Brejtfus, "The podcast was originally made up of Scott Murphy of PSE; Steve Pattillo, who runs several Southern California stamp shows; and currently Tom Schilling, who is the engineer due to his mastery of computers as well as his other hobbies."

Murphy, who is president of PSE, said, "It is a labor of love. We get a few gifts from the listeners, and two large dealers have made contributions when we needed to buy new equipment to improve the quality to the podcast, but overall we do it because it is just plain fun and it is a great excuse to goof off on Friday afternoon."

Dawn Goss, who hosts the podcast, said,

Stamp Show Here Today* is a weekly podcast for stamp collectors featuring round-table discussions.

"It is kind of cool being a celebrity. People come up to me all the time and tell me they enjoy the podcast. People recognize me by my voice and saying, you're Dawn, aren't you?"

The podcast began with discussions of expertizing, detecting forgeries, and reperforated and regummed stamps. More recent podcasts cover lighter subjects, including Linn's United States Stamp Popularity Poll, fancy cancels, movies that feature stamps, removing stamps from covers, and stamp shows.

One of the topics of discussion on the July 18 podcast centered on the new set of 10 nondenominated (49¢) forever stamps issued July 15 by the U.S. Postal Service featuring villains from Disney animated films.

Stamp collectors and dealers are invited to participate in podcasts. Linn's managing editor Charles Snee joined the discussion for episode 17 in 2015.

"I think the podcast has taken off not just because of the stamp stories but also because people like to be part of a community," Murphy said.

To access Stamp Show Here Today, you can use iTunes or Podbean or almost any other podcast platform.

The podcast can also be accessed from their website, www.StampShowHeretoday.com. ■

My computer said there were security issues with the website when I went to the site mentioned here. So I Googled Stamp Show Here Today and found the first site was shown as: Stamp Show Here Today - The Postage Stamp Collecting Podcast https://stampshowheretoday1.podbean.com/ . There is some neat stuff going on there! Lea
